   collected $87,000.

   Mario Treviño with the law firm of Linebarger Goggan Blair & Samson, LLP of software issues. He said that the ball was now rolling and they had currently

D. Request by Council Member Charlie San Miguel
1. Status report on the Department of Community Development, Home Program resale guidelines including a report of families assisted for the last two years, with possible action.

Community Director Ronnie Acosta reported that the City of Laredo does administer a down payment assistance program funded through the Home Investment Partnership Program. She said this year, the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) did review their resale guidelines. She explained that the Home program required that when an individual is assisted with Home funds, the unit they occupy had to remain affordable for a certain period of time, depending on the amount of investment made in that home. This meant that when the person would sell their home and not use it as his or her primary residence, they had to sell to a subsequent low-income homebuyer. She went on to say that HUD had reviewed their resale guidelines and asked them to redo the hybrid language within, and although they complied, there was still an issue with the resale guidelines. Therefore, they decided to change to recapture guidelines, which meant that the person can pay back whatever was invested and walk away from the home.

She continued saying that other changes to the program were that instead of providing up to $15,000 of assistance, they made it up to $14,999 which would reduce the affordability period from ten years to five years. She stated that they proposed changing the program to a five-year forgivable loan with credit given to the family for every year that they resided in the home. She also said that at the end of the five years, they would no longer owe on the loan. She added that in the event that they sold their home either through a voluntary or involuntary transfer, given the time that they had spent in the house, then the payback would be prorated and those funds would be recaptured. She concluded that they modeled their recapture guidelines after HUD but they had revoked the grantees recapture guidelines, so they had resubmitted the guidelines.

2. Discussion with possible action that the City of Laredo refer all matters requiring second legal opinions to the Texas Municipal League, Legal Department instead of private firms.

City Manager Carlos Villarreal reported that private attorneys were named by the Texas Municipal League. He stated that in a very specialized case, TML themselves selected the private firms which was part of the coverage that they had and were already paying for.

E. Request by Council Member Cynthia Liendo Espinoza
1. Presentation by Girl Scout Troop 9128 inviting the general public to a community baby shower benefiting premature babies born in our area.

2. Discussion with possible action requesting the Traffic Department to conduct a traffic study for Bruni Elementary School during school hours for the safety of the children.

Cm. Liendo Espinoza asked for the Traffic department to conduct a study to see whether or not they needed to convert a street to a one-way during the drop-off and pick-up hours in front of the school and come back with a report within 30 days.

Motion to instruct staff to conduct a traffic study for Bruni Elementary School to see if they needed to convert a street to a one-way during school hours.

3. Discussion with possible action regarding the leasing of the Plaza Theater on a short and long term basis. (Co-Sponsored by Council Member Alejandro “Alex” Perez)

Victor Treviño, Jr. gave the following presentation:

PLAZA THEATRE PRESENTATION
“EL MERCADO” DISTRICT DOWNTOWN
LAREDO, TEXAS

What used to be the heart, and soon will be again, “El Mercado” is just opposite of our sister City of Nuevo Laredo. It is bounded by the Pan American highway (I-35) on the East, the Rio Grande on the South and West and Park Street in the North. This area was the original City of Laredo, founded in 1755 by Don Tomas Sanchez.

Located at 1018 Hidalgo Street, the Plaza Theatre was built in 1947, and the 1,586-seat theatre was designed as a movie house and featured first-run American and Mexican films.

It was a place where people gathered, laughed together, and the community was whole.

The building is also the only remaining example of the Art Moderne style in Laredo and is of particular interest for the striking hand painted murals which adorn its interiors.

The Plaza, with its large vertical marquee, visible up and down Hidalgo Street, was operated by United Artist before it closed.

With the hope of restoring this historic symbol of downtown and creating economic development opportunities for persons of low income, the City of Laredo acquired the theatre in 1999 with Community Development Block Grant funds.

On November 13, 2001, the City Council approved funds to undertake a feasibility study. The firm of Killis Almond and Associates, Inc., in association with Architects Plus, Inc. and Janis A. Barlow & Associates was selected to conduct the study.

The purpose of the study was to determine the feasibility of rehabilitating the Plaza as a venue for the live performing arts (including theatre, music and/or dance) and film. The study concluded that in order to fill the full spectrum of community needs and be operationally viable, the Plaza would need to be a very flexible, multi-purpose venue, able to rent, present, exhibit and host a variety of programming. In order to do so, it was recommended that the theatre should contain more than one venue for performing arts, film and meeting uses, and that consideration should be given to converting the balcony into a second, multi-purpose space.

The study concluded that the total project cost would be $6.1 million. The cost breakdown is as follows:
